

Florida Consortium on Inclusive Higher Education

Inclusive Postsecondary Education Programs

Below is a list of Florida's inclusive postsecondary education (IPSE) programs serving students between the ages of 18 and 55, according to a recent survey (FCIHE, 2016). Programs listed here meet the definition of inclusive postsecondary education for students with intellectual disabilities, as defined in the TPSID initiative of the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA, 2008).

Please note: Programs continue to evolve and new ones emerge. Refer to www.FCIHE.com or www.FCSUA.org for updated information.

The HEOA represents a federal initiative which specifically defines inclusive postsecondary education; programs where students with intellectual disabilities enroll in college courses with their degree-seeking peers and experience internships and gainful employment. This initiative calls for the establishment of meaningful credentials for students with intellectual disabilities; credentials that speak to employers of capability, skills, and self-initiative. Finally, the initiative focuses on gainful employment outcomes; postsecondary education resulting in paid employment (FCIHE, 2016).
