Inclusive Postsecondary Education Programs

Programs listed here meet the definition of inclusive postsecondary education for students with intellectual disabilities, as defined in the TPSID initiative of the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA, 2008). These programs continue to evolve and new ones emerge. Refer to www.FCIHE.com or www.FCSUA.org for updated information. The HEOA represents a federal initiative which specifically defines inclusive postsecondary education as programs where students with intellectual disabilities enroll in college courses with their degree-seeking peers and experience internships and gainful employment. (FCIHE, 2016).
